

FLIGHT ★ SCHOOLS

Fuselage has an alternative to your typical discipleship weekend, retreat or disciple now. We would like to help you elevate your student ministry with one of our Flight Schools. Flight Schools are total package events that include Speaker, Band, T-Shirt Design, Theme Development and Curriculum. These elements can be adjusted according to the youth pastor's vision for the event. Fuselage will work alongside you to create an event that fits your student ministry's needs and budget. Our desire is to alleviate the pressure of the youth pastor calling multiple places to find the elements they need for a Disciple Now weekend. Also, by planning the theme and working on curriculum, the youth pastor is free to spend time with their students during the weekend. The themes that we plan typically take what is relevant in popular youth culture and combine them with the timeless truth of the Gospel. Flight Schools will take students to new heights as they are challenged to get their relationship with Christ off the ground level.

Our team will not only help you plan before the event, but will be an active part of your whole event. They will actively engage with students and your staff to make the weekend the best it can be. The band will be lead worshippers, leading worship by example and taking your students on a journey to the throne. They can also do a concert one night that will crank up the energy level. Many times, a concert is a great way to kick off the Saturday night of the weekend. The Speaker will challenge your students to grow deeper in their relationship with Christ with a combination of biblical truths and relevant illustrations, normally through current movie clips. Your students will walk away from the weekend excited about growing deeper in their walk with Christ.
